BEING A 'SUICIDE GIRL' NO FUN

"Never again!" was the unqualified declaration today of Millie Scalfino of the North End, as she laughed at questions about her attempt at "suicide." She said she did not take poison and did not, in fact, try suicide. She said she had and waved policeman's fingers. Doctor administered first aid. She didn't like the stomach pump and fessed up it was a joke.

HURLED 30 FEET INTO ROCKY BED OF RIVER

Mother of Three, Trapped on Bridge Near Webster, Is Struck by Hand Car

Webster, June 7 (I.N.S.).—A race with death across a trestle 40 feet above the rocky bed of the Naugatuck River in a rain storm here today was lost by three feet by Mrs. William Novosadko, 56, mother of three children and grandmother of five.

The woman tried in vain to get out of the path of a motor handcar of the New Haven Railroad. Three feet from the end of the bridge, after she had sped across the trestle for 12 feet, the handcar, with large wheels trying to hold the brakes on slippery rails, struck her and tossed her to death on the rocks below.

Mrs. Novosadko was going in the store from her home and was making a short cut across the trestle, which is built over the Naugatuck and across the river.

Half way across, the woman saw the handcar speeding toward her and then she began her thrilling race for life.

The men on the car were in charge of Foreman James Hines. They set the brakes, but despite their efforts the car, on the downgrade, would not stop because of the slippery rails.

With safety almost within reach, Mrs. Novosadko was struck and tossed to her death.

GIRLS PUT OFF DAD'S PENALTY

Judge James M. Morton in Federal Court today deferred for a week sentencing Patrick J. McDonnell, No. 289 Bay State road, recently found guilty with three others in the Swampscott rum conspiracy case.

William L. Quinn, ex-chief of police, and Charles and Robert (Harry) Brown of Lynn, convicted with McDonnell, will come up with him for sentence next Monday.

According to Assistant U. S. Attorney Hubert G. Thompson, who prosecuted the case, McDonnell sought out Judge Morton in chambers and pleaded for postponement of sentence for a week that he might attend the graduating exercises in which his two daughters will participate. The request was granted.

FOUND 'CHARLEY ROSS' REPUTED BY FAMILY

New York, June 7 (A.P.).—The half century old mystery of the kidnapping of Charley Ross was under a crossfire of claims and denial today. Mrs. Perry C. Hager of New York claimed she had found the missing Ross in a North Carolina mountain town who had adopted the name of W. C. McGee.

$1,000 'SLAVE' SLIPS CHAINS

Boston's famous $1,000 "slave" has slipped the chains again. Oliver Grever Flint's marriage with Katherine M. Kearney, a waitress, is all off.

Only a week ago the young man, last of the Flints and Flint families, slipped into the spotlight again by taking out marriage intentions with Miss Kearney, who took in by street.

Today, young Flint slipped into the Marriage Bureau at City Hall, and gave a silent R. O. S. Assistant Registrar Jeremiah Leary announced the deal.

"I want to cancel this," said Flint abruptly, holding a little card.

The matchmaker noted the intention of C. Grever Flint and Katherine M. Kearney to marry.

"Why?" queried Leary.

"I'm not going to use it," was the reply.

"Well, it's good for six months. I don't care. Please cancel it."

"What about the license, it's been here since May 29?"

"Cancel that, too," returned Flint as he stepped out into the rainy street.

CANADIAN R. R. PLAN SCOUTED

New Haven, Ct., June 7 (I.N.S.).—Reports from Norwich that the Central Vermont is seeking use of the New Haven Railroad's Willimantic Provisional line were "interesting" to the New Haven Railroad officials here today, but it was said no negotiations for such use were known of here.

The Central Vermont is controlled by the Canadian National railways. Its proposed Palmer Provisional route attained great notoriety when Charles S. Mellen was president of the New Haven, being the basis of a great fight between the Grand Trunk and the New Haven. Millions were expended on the Palmer-Providence line and it is said millions more must be spent to have it working.

Such traffic as the Central Vermont now has destined for Providence is handled over the Willimantic Provisional line, but business is to be held by the New Haven as long as possible, it was indicated today.

'SACCO' STRIKE IS PLANNED

Buenos Aires, June 7 (A.P.).—Circulars printed by a labor newspaper and attributed to elements affiliated with the Chauffeurs' Union and automobile refueling stations urge the chauffeurs to prepare for a strike in protest against the sentencing of Sacco and Vanzetti under conviction for murder in Massachusetts.

BROOKHART OUT FOR 'REVENGE'

Des Moines, Iowa, June 7 (A.P.)—A battle of two political personalities dominated interest of Iowa's election today as it pitted the choice for two United States Senatorial nominations from a field of five Republicans and four Democratic candidates. A big vote was expected.

Senator Albert D. Cummins, re-elected, seeks on the Republican ballot to retain the post he has held since 1903. Smith W. Brookhart, asks the same nomination in vengeance upon those who unseated him two months ago in an election controversy.

He was ousted in favor of Dan F. Rice, his Democratic opponent in the 1924 election. Brookhart went to the Senate in 1922 to serve the two-year balance of the term of W. K. Kibben, resigned.

WET CANDIDATE RUNS
Although Cummins and Brookhart shared the main interest, a third candidate for the Republican nomination was regarded as formidable—Howard Clark, Des Moines attorney, whose campaign has been based upon the contention that he is the only Republican candidate with any chance of success in the November election.

John B. Dearborn, Council Bluffs attorney, has injected the wet and dry issue with the "wet" candidate, but he has made no campaign.

The Democratic candidates are Claude R. Porter, five times the party's choice for the United States Senate and four times its candidate for Governor; J. Ray Pitts, Fort Dodge, former State legislator; James M. Smith, George Pines.

Porter is credited with support of the "McAdoo wing."

BOSTON GIRL TO BE NOTABLE

Notable girls, Miss Wills of the tennis court and Miss Ederie of the swimming tank.

The quest for The Boston Girl of 1926 creates another and a new notable girl celebrated for a personal achievement of distinction, art and skill. She will be known as the girl who best complements her personality and bearing with the style and distinction of her dress.

Just as Miss Wills and Miss Ederie reached their honors under argued-up judges and judges, so will the new notability—The Boston Girl of 1926.

JUDGES CHOSEN.
The judges deciding who is the typical Boston Girl of 1926 among the prepossessing, smartly garbed young women brought to their attention as a result of the Boston Evening American's quest, are: L. W. Sargent, director The Sargent School for Physical Education, Cambridge; Mr. Royal Bailey Barnum, director of the Massachusetts School of Art, Exterior and Newbury street; Cyrus Dillin, distinguished American sculptor, Arlington; and a style authority from the staff of Harper's Bazaar.

Each is eminent. Together they compose a body of judges whose final decision creates a new notability among young women—The Boston Girl of 1926. It will most distinctively honor the young woman whose personal triumph is conspicuous in almost equal measure is conferred, too, on the girls as second and third outstanding types of Boston Girls of 1926.

PERSONAL PRIDE.
Miss Wills gets very great personal pride and satisfaction from her tennis triumphs. Miss Ederie also from her aquatic prowess as is evidenced by her happy smile.

Selected as the Boston Girl of 1926, you will experience the same in personal pride and satisfaction. You may be able. Take the step that puts you in line to learn whether you are.

Send in a photograph that shows you in an attractive dress, street, or sports, or evening.

The Boston Evening American opens to you the opportunity for a splendid personal triumph comparable with the triumphs of Miss Ederie and Miss Wills.

SUBSTANTIAL AWARDS.

DRIFTS 4 DAYS AT SEA; SAFE

Halifax, June 7 (A.P.).—After drifting four days and nights in a dory, Jack J. Wilson, a member of the crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner Conqueror, landed today at Drum Head, 40 miles west of Cape Cod.

Although suffering from exposure and lack of food, the fisherman was in good physical condition; it was said. Arrangements were made today to have Wilson returned to his home.

TRIASSUICIDE IN SETTING FIRE

Chicago, June 7.—Mrs. Claire Williams, wife of a Byfield, Mass., man, set fire to the home of the Rev. Clarence Gould in an attempt to end her life. Then, when her husband, jumped out of a window, rolled down a porch roof and fell to the ground, unharmed.
 The fire was put out before any damage was done.
 Mrs. Williams was taken back to the Psychopathic Hospital, from which she had just been released. Five months ago she attempted to kill herself and her fifteen-year-old daughter, Anita, by lighting the gas as the girl slept. The pair was discovered and both were saved. The daughter was sent to live with her father in Byfield.

CIRCUS OPENS WEEK'S STAY

It's here in all its stupendous, magnificent, super-gorgeous—admirable, exquisite, five rings and all. The Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined circus, the biggest thing that cracks the amusement trail, has come to town to give dazzling performances from sunrise to sunset every day throughout this week.

It swung into the view of open-minded juveniles early this morning when the vaquero train pulled into the Mystic River rail yards of the B. & M.

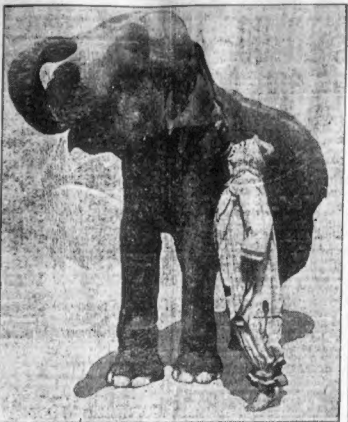

Next followed three other sections until a total of a hundred cars had been spotted on the siding. Then came the business of sending hundreds of rumbling wagons and cages off to the showgrounds at Sullivan Square.

Nothing went unattended. Pairs, groups and entire mobs of youngsters swarmed the circus and more swarmed the 200 performing horses in their snug blankets, the closely tarpaulined animal pens and the strange looking giraffe vans.

One of the last things to be unloaded—happily distribute manna, unford grandstand chairs, which, not for that most desirable of all wages—a free ticket. The remaining eight percent, lent their undivided moral support.

Small wonder that the circus required today's help. The show carries the working man, but what with two more days to go, and in place there are five this year, set for a big show, and then hanging so much on the line, the circus is not a little thing in the world, there's a full morning's job for everybody concerned.

U.S. SEEKING TO SAVE MUTINEER

Washington, June 7.—American officials abroad, including Ambassador Hurrick, in Paris are endeavoring to add Ernest J. Dory, or "Red" Dory, a Tennessee youth, reported sentenced to death for attempted desertion and mutiny in the French army, to the list of persons against the Dreyfus trials.
 A cablegram from Paul Knabenschlag, American Consul at Beirut, reporting that "Willard" Dory was about to be tried by a military court-martial for alleged desertion.
 Knabenschlag said he had telegraphed the American Consul at Damascus to use his good offices in the French army and to endeavor to obtain legal services for him, to which he is entitled under French military law.
 Before any sentence or execution can be carried out the verdict must be approved by the President of France, according to the state Department.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY

Florence Crittenton League Folk Plan for Rummage Shop

THE LATEST WRINKLE IN PHILANTHROPIC fashioning to which Milady, on charitable affairs intent, enthusiastically subscribes is the permanent shop for rummage. And once established, with an unceasing flow of articles into the shop, such an establishment is well on the road to success.

NEWEST recruits to this class scheme are these Florence Crittenton League leaders, with their ambitious plans for a permanent shop to be opened in the Autumn. Meanwhile the cry goes out for goods wherewith to stock it.

"NEARLY NEW THINGS" is a slogan under consideration, which means anything and everything suitable in the eyes of sponsors. And whatever you have for this "benefit shop" just notify the League at No. 88 Tremont street, and gladly will they call for it.

SEVERAL SITES FOR the shop are being weighed, and a volunteer sales force is under enrollment—headed by a score of matrons whose backing always spells success.

MRS. W. J. McDONALD, leader of Irish-American club cohorts; Mrs. Charles F. Greenough, 18 the former "Peggy" Perkins, whose wholehearted efforts have carried many a benefit to high supremacy; and Mrs. Frederic Cameron Church, Jr., are interested.

LEWIS MESSIAHES DUDLEY R. HOWE, Walter M. Pratt, Curtis Guild, Gay W. Currier, Charles E. Durgin, Channing H. Cox, Herbert L. Bowen, Charles E. Bacon, Oscar L. Halsey, John F. Hansen, Miss Elizabeth C. Leland, Miss Edith Robinson and Miss Mildred Bradley also are interested.

OLD SOL, REFUSING to share the children's Circus on Saturday last at the J. Randolph College estate in Chestnut Hill, Medford George A. West, Bartle McKee Henry, Francis C. Church, Jr. and other leaders decreed a postponement to next Saturday.

ALL THOSE MYRIAD attractions are held over until June 12, the hours likewise increased from two to six in the afternoon. And verily it will be a true circus for young-uns, with everything the small heart desires in the way of fun.

A MOST DESERVING charity, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, receives the funds gathered by the circus and in charge of the event is the Junior Division, hoping ardently to make a top-notch success.

NEWPORT'S EMBASSY CLUB, that mid-Victorian appearing domicile in Bath road, opens its hospitable doors to a choice clientele in celebration of our great national holiday, July 4.

THE CLUB, HAVING Mrs. Rich and T. Wilson the former Marjorie Mason, a Bostonian in the role of chief sponsor, is Newport's rendezvous for the excellence in the way of night clubs.

ADMITTANCE VIA INVITATION only, an excellent feature which is the light fantastic supperette culled from the elite of the Club Mirador knows so excellently the secret, and all those other attractions nearest to the club building may be found at the Embassy.

NEWPORT NEVER has looked lovelier than now, when velvet lawns grow more green each day and handsome trees are in perfection of leafage. Really is opened.

with his new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coleman Drake, holding forth.

WENDHAM RIDGE, the Dudley Davis eighty estate with its rambling villa, is once again hospitably open for the season. Mr. and Mrs. James Leach Bank, Jr., at Pisard Cottage, No. 2, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Leroy Jones at No. 11 Rhode Island avenue, are other Newport householders now in residence.

RENTING HARBOURVIEW, the Mrs. Paul Fitz-Simons' place on Harrison avenue, is really an occasion in Newport's smart real estate annals, for it's the very first time others than the Frenches will live beneath its roof.

HARBOURVIEW HAS BEEN continuously in the French family, a homestead in a way, with Mrs. Francis O. French Chase Vanderhilt Fitz-Simons OLDER NEWPORT RECALLS the days when Harbourview was the Newport home of the late Alfred G. Vanderbilt, and his first wife (Edie French). Landing of the villa is the season's surprise.

HINTERLANDS OF THE South-ern Hemisphere have called Mr. and Mrs. Fitz-Simons much during the last two years, and Lima, Peru, has known them more frequently than has their Newport establishment.

LENOXTH TRAVELS has been and is the Fitz-Simons procedure measurable for the coming season Albert J. Wright of Buffalo, New York, with his powerful family, occupy the famous villa, so long associated with the Frenches.

340 THEATRES IN COMBINE

Chicago, June 7 (A.P.)—Three hundred and forty theatres, including five principal motion picture houses of Chicago and representing a $10,000,000 investment, have gone into the control of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation under a plan of consolidation by which that company has acquired a majority stock interest in the Pathé and Kato Corporation of Chicago.

The merger will represent a bonded million dollars in theatre properties when worked out and will bring under Famous Players-Lasky direction more than five hundred motion picture theatres all over the country and several film producing enterprises.

Chief among its Chicago holdings are the Chicago, Oriental, Roosevelt, Uptown and Tivoli Theatres. The company has assets of about $17,000,000 but at $10 a share its common stock would be worth more than $17,000,000.

MAN SLAIN AS POLICE SEIZE HIM; SUSPECT HELD Springfield, June 7.—Raffaello Ciolella, forty-two, died in Western Memorial Hospital today, victim of wounds inflicted, the police say, by Michael Fiorentino, while Ciolella was being placed in a patrol wagon.

Earlier, following an argument over a $10 bet, the police say, Ciolella fired on Angelo Verucci, thirty-eight, a cousin of Fiorentino, when Verucci had sought the assistance of Police Sergeant John E. Harley, who is now in the Western Memorial Hospital. He may not recover.

Florentino learned of the shooting and sought out Ciolella. Finding him being placed in the patrol wagon, Fiorentino at once opened fire. It is charged. He is accused of murder.

JEWISH SCHOOL TO GRADUATE 12

Twelve young Jewish men and women will be graduated from the Hebrew Teachers' College at the second annual commencement exercises Wednesday night in the college building, No. 14 Crawford street, Roxbury.

Dr. Nissan Turoff, first dean and organizer, will lead guests to the Hebrew college. It is smiling for Palestine soon. Scanning him, Dr. Samuel Perlmutter will be introduced to the student body and to Boston Jewry.

The Hebrew College was organized in 1921 as a consequence of the cessation of Jewish immigration from Europe. Its purpose is to produce young men and women versed in Jewish religion to perpetuate all that is traditional with the Hebrews.

At the graduation exercises, opening prayer will be given by Rabbi Herman H. Hershkovitz. Speakers include Judge David A. Loring, Ralph Louis M. Epstein, Rabbi Harry Levi and Louis Hurwich. Professor Nathan Isaacs of Harvard will deliver the commencement address.

GIRL AND MAN ARE BEATEN IN AUTO

SPRINGFIELD, N. Y., June 7 (A.P.)—State troopers and sheriffs were searching the roads on Wednesday night for two unidentified men who held up and attacked a man and a girl who were motoring along Fay road.

James Bernolite, 22, of Manlius, driver of the car, and his companion, Miss Florence Brown, 21, were the victims of the attack. Carried away by the troopers, they were thrown into the back of their car by their assailants who fled when an other automobile approached.

DENY TRAINING TO THOUSANDS

Washington, June 7 (Universal)—Thousands of young Americans are seeking military training in the service Officers Training Corps units which the army is unable to provide, the department announces.

Students in universities and colleges desire to establish senior O. T. C. units, while thirty-five other applications have been made by high schools for junior units. In addition to these formal applications the War Department has seventeen other inquiries from universities, colleges and high schools which desire to "do their bit" in the great plan of national defense by providing military training for their students. Until added appropriations are secured, no increase can be provided, the War Department reports.

TWO ARRESTS MADE IN 'HEADLESS' KILLING

Kalgoorlie, Australia, June 7 (A.P.)—Another chapter in the mysterious murder of Inspector Walsh and sergeant Pimman, one of the greatest sensations the gold fields has ever known, was opened today with the arrest of two men on murder charges. They are Juan Chiriqui, owner of a public house, and John Trefore, a bar man.

The mutilated and headless bodies of Walsh and Pimman were found in an abandoned mine shaft and officers had set out to trap gold thieves. Near the bodies was found a complete illicit gold treatment plant.

PANAMA REFUSES TO WORRY ABOUT BORAH

Panama, Canal Zone, June 7 (A.P.)—Panama is not concerned over the inquiry asked by United States Senator Borah into the grant of a railroad concession to large tracts of land on the Isthmus, according to Secretary Alfaro, who says:

"Panama has not made a concession to the British government, but to a private English company. Panama has perfect right to do that."

"The American State Department realized this by explaining that it did not consider it necessary to take up the matter with Panama diplomatically, since the concessions seem a typical grant for the exploitation of mineral districts only."

BARON REFUSED DIVORCE

Venice, June 7 (A.P.)—Prince Cyril Vladimirovich Orloff, wounded in a fight with Baron Klinger in the latter's estate in Lower Austria, told the newspaper men that the Baron had refused a promise to divorce his beautiful wife so she and Orloff could wed.

The promise was made in the presence of the Baroness, the Prince asserted. He also declared that the Baron had refused to contract a divorce pact with him, to see arrested into effect if they could marry. But shut herself after the dust.

TAXI DRIVER IS BEATEN, SLUGGERS IN HIS CAB

Winston, a taxi-driver company driver, brutally attacked by two young men, one of whom swung a white bottle over his head, was found unconscious and lying in a pool of blood at Northampton and Harrison avenues, South End.

William James, 21, of Park street, Rodbury, and Frank Barker, 25, of Park street, Dorchester, identified by White as the men who attacked him, were arrested by Police Officer P. G. Lee, East End high street station.

White claims Peterson, Baker, and two others, had been passengers in his taxicab. The two, he says, were the last to stay with him in a drive around the city, and beat him because he asked them to pay their fare.

KINSEY HELPS VIN RICHARDS TO TRIUMPH

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, June 7.—Vincent Richards and Howard Kinsey became semi-finalists in the men's doubles in the international hard court championship here today when the defeated Courtis, Hain and Hain von Ahrensling, 6-1, 6-7, 7-4.

Miss Kinsey, Hain and Miss Joan Fry were each victors in one set, when the men fell and forced an abandonment of the match for this time being. Miss Hain lost the first set to Miss Fry 6-7, but won the second 6-4.

The men fell in torrents at 4 o'clock this afternoon and the courts were minutes later. It is doubtful whether play can be resumed. Miss Eleanor Goss has been selected to substitute for Miss Villars, the fourth member of the American Women's team for the Wimbledon cup series in England.

Crimson Blade Welders Open Final Drills for New London Regatta

New London, June 7.—Although the regatta season is not yet open, the Crimson Blade Welders are busy with their final drills for the new regatta. The team, which is composed of men from the local regatta, is working hard to prepare for the upcoming season. The drills are taking place on the river, and the team is expected to be in top form for the start of the regatta.

TILDEN TO QUIT 'PURE' TENNIS SOON

By DAVIS J. WALSH, International News Service Staff Editor.

New York, June 7.—William T. Tilden, 19, will retire at the end of the current campaign from the field of amateur tennis, according to reports coming from the world's leading tennis authority. Tilden, who has won the Wimbledon championship in 1923, is expected to retire after the end of the season.

Limited Fields Would Enhance Track Meets

By STEPHEN CHANDLER.

In a preceding article we discussed the need of reform in the timing system which rules today in track athletics. Today we are going to look at another element in the competition which could be altered with effective results. This feature has to do principally with the C. A. competition, and all large scale meets in general, as it relates to the limiting of the field, a factor which at first may seem undesirable, but which upon close scrutiny appears to be almost necessary in the interests of fair play.

Yale Oarsmen Begin Final Workouts for Bowing Classic

Yale, June 7 (A.P.).—Although the Yale crew team has not yet begun its final workouts for the Harvard-Yale regatta, the team is expected to be in top form for the upcoming season. The crew team is working hard to prepare for the upcoming season, and the regatta is expected to be a highly competitive one.

HIGH ARMY MEN LAUD HEARST

Yale, June 7 (Universal).—High praise for William Hearst, Jr., has been given by the high army men. Hearst, who is a member of the Yale crew team, is expected to be in top form for the upcoming season. The crew team is working hard to prepare for the upcoming season, and the regatta is expected to be a highly competitive one.

Experts Pick Stribling to Beat Champion

New York, June 7 (A.P.).—The supremacy in the light heavyweight division is down for settlement Thursday night at the Yankee stadium with W. L. (Young) Stribling of Georgia as challenger to champion Paul Berwick.

Only a small number of spectators are expected to see the match, which is expected to be a highly competitive one. The match is expected to be a highly competitive one, and the regatta is expected to be a highly competitive one.

Without detracting at all from the current quality of intercollegiate tennis, it is a fair enough to state that the field is altogether too large. A quality could be increased, and a more interesting and more exciting match could be arranged. The match is expected to be a highly competitive one, and the regatta is expected to be a highly competitive one.

CHICK JAGGS and Babe Herman, midwest fighting champions, are expected to meet in their second bout for their third round which will be staged in the Madison Square Garden, New York, on June 14.

Herman is on the scene of the contest. He came here from New York accompanied by manager Jimmy Kelly. There is plenty of confidence in Herman's camp.

"Babe is fit and will win," said Kelly. "Herman has been a loser."

continued Jimmy, "and he will make the most of the situation."

The fight will be a one-way fight. Babe will be the only one to fight.

Dempsey Ended Brennan

THIS is the sixtieth of a series of famous fights covered by Tad, the greatest controversial and leading authority on pugilism in this country.

The rabbit punch ended the late Bill Brennan's chance for the heavyweight title in the seventh round of his bout with Jack Dempsey at the old Madison Square Garden on December 14, 1925.

The old punch that is dreaded by all fighters reared in American boxing and made famous years ago by Mike Baker, is the one that Dempsey used on the stout-headed Brennan.

It was a severe battle in which blood flowed freely and the champion was manhandled quite a bit.

The fight came after one minute and fifteen seconds of fighting in the seventh round.

Dempsey, cut and bleeding, toward his head and waded into the street. Brennan, there was a million in the center of the ring. They hit and Dempsey missed a long left swing for Bill's head. The latter then started a right hand to the champion's jaw, but just as it got half way Jack dug a left to the pit of Brennan's stomach. Brennan folded up like an accordion, his head almost touching his knees. Dempsey waited for only a fraction of a second. Raising his right he brought it down like a trip hammer on the back of Brennan's neck. It was the old rabbit punch.

Brennan fell to the floor slowly. The crowd got to his feet as the referee started to tell off the second. Bill couldn't get his head off the floor, try as he would. He seemed to be boring through the floor of the ring like a gimlet. He squirmed and swayed as the seconds passed and Dempsey, for like, moved behind him—a trick that bawlers a dozen men as he gets up to fight. Bill looked for his opponent, but couldn't see him.

But Bill didn't get up. Up and down went Brennan's right hand. It seemed fully a minute. Everyone seemed to be trying to help the game Brennan to his feet. At the count of ten he did get up, but he lay on the ropes in a dazed condition.

Dempsey, not knowing that ten had been counted, stepped toward Brennan to put the flubbing fourth in the picture. The referee grabbed Jack's right arm, telling him that it was all over.

Brennan was not to have come by his seconds amid the cheers of the crowd.

No heavyweight champion in the history of the ring had the close cut that Dempsey had that night. The crowd roared and set his jaws together the champion put on a very poor fight.

He was not the Dempsey we saw at Toledo, neither was he the Dempsey of Boston Harbor. His cheeks were drawn in very pale and thin. He had like a leaf as photographers poked him with Brennan before the fight.

He had left everything he owned in the gym. He reminded us of the fellow who said that he could drink a quart of whiskey in an hour—he made the bet, and half an hour before the time set for the fight drank a quart to try himself out.

Brennan, the fellow the wise guys expected to see carried out after a round or two supposed the crowd he was sick and even his handlers with the battle he put up. No one during the fight had the right to the situation. Instead he seemed to be a comic mixture. He seemed still back at the start of the first and electrified everyone. To see a fought round after night.

The punch wasn't dead as Dempsey—luck for Jack to win.

In the second round he and Dempsey rolled in the ropes with a right-hand to the point of the chin, and followed it up with two lefts flush on the champion's mouth. It was a surprise—the mouse turning on the cat, the calf pasting the butcher.

Dempsey weathered it and then kept hitting Bill with short lefts and rights in close. Round after round he poked the Chicago man. They were more times, but they were killing him.

Dempsey's long left and right results, missed the marks, but in close he simply battered Brennan. Bill became a more and more, but he fought with the best of a fight.

FOXY GRANDPA'S BEDTIME STORY

By Foxy Grandpa

BOBBY, Bunny and I happened to be up very early one morning. We were starting on a hike, and as we walked along the road we passed a field which must have been several acres in size.

In the wood across the field, such a thing and looking and chatting in you never heard in all your life.

"Those crows certainly make an awful fuss when they get up in the morning, don't they," laughed Bobby.

"I wonder which is doing the most scolding," I chuckled. "The lady crows or the gentleman crows."

HEAL SKIN DISEASES

Apply Zemo, Clean, Penetrating, Antiseptic Liquid.

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with Eczema, Dermatitis, Ringworm, Itches and similar skin troubles. Zemo will usually give instant relief from itching, burning, itches and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. It is recommended for daytime use because it doesn't show. Get it today from any druggist. Small size 25c, large 50c. Bottle.

"That would be hard to guess," said Bobby. "Perhaps the ladies are trying to get the gentlemen up."

"It may be the other way around," I said, and cast a side glance at Bobby who never wanted to get up in the morning.

"My!" I exclaimed. "There must be hundreds of them!"

"Hundred! There are those and," declared Bobby.

"You don't mean it," I said. "If they fly out of the woods, you'll see how many there are."

Bunny had just finished speaking when out of the woods started the crows. I thought they would never stop coming. Hundreds after hundreds came, flying close to the ground and we heard against the rule of the flocks watching them.

"I thought crows flew up high in the air. I've never seen them fly low down on the ground like that," said Bobby.

"You crows you've never been up so early in the morning before," suggested Bobby ready for an argument.

"What's that got to do with it?"

"It makes all the difference in the world when you see crows—when they're in the morning before."

"Well, then just tell me," declared Bobby, "what they are flying so close to the ground like that for?"

"Simplest thing in the world," answered Bobby. "It's their breakfast time and they have come down to the ground to pick up grubs and insects."

"Oh, I see," said Bobby.

"You crows you've never seen a grub before, have you?"

"No, I haven't," said Bobby.

"You crows you've never seen a grub before, have you?"

"No, I haven't," said Bobby.
